

To our customers

April 2006

EU Directive 2002/95/EC RoHS

The Directive 2002/95/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council on the Restriction of the Use of Certain Hazardous Substances in Electrical and Electronic Equipment (RoHS) – officially goes into effect July 1, 2006.

The implementation of the legal requirements demand certain adjustments. For our analysis and test tools, interfaces and gateways different consequences arise, which are explained in the following table.
